

Why Timor-Leste?

Why Timor-Leste?

The education system of Timor-Leste was destroyed during the conflict to achieve independence from Indonesia and we are now working with Unicef to rebuild the education system. Child-friendly schools (known as Eskola Foun) are considered the key strategy to improving basic education.

We strongly believe that all Timorese children have the right to complete nine years of free basic education. However, high repetition rates, dropout rate and poor learning outcome remain a key challenge.

Unicef's child friendly schools will drastically improve education for the children of Timor-Leste.

What does a Child Friendly School look like?

- Child centeredness
- Democratic participation
- Inclusiveness

How does Human Group contribute to making a difference?

Our donations have so far achieved the following:

- Provide teacher training for 17 schools
- Train 36 trainers who will be training the teachers
- Train 187 teachers to teach children in a child friendly way
- This directly affects 6 077 children in Timor-Leste.

Ultimately, we are committed to creating home through education and commitment to a brighter future for all.

Our promise is to make a change and the world a little more human.
